

Wind Mitigation Inspection Discount

(1) What is the wind mitigation inspection and how can it save me money on my home insurance?

Answer

This is an inspection done by a licensed contractor or approved wind inspector on your home that may save you a substantial amount of money on your home insurance. Many of our current clients had the wind mitigation inspection done on their home and have saved a lot of money, some clients have even saved more than $1000 on their home insurance.

There is a 2 page state approved inspection form that is filled out in about 10 minutes by a licensed contractor or wind inspector. The inspector looks at your roof to see what type of nails hold the roof down, the type of hurricane straps, roof shape, ect. The inspector fills out the 2 page wind inspection form and you turn it in to us to see what type of discounts that your home may qualify for on your home insurance. You may qualify for all the discounts or none, it just depends on what the inspector finds when inspecting your home.

(2) Who should consider having the wind mitigation inspection done?

Answer

Any home built prior to 2002. For example, even a home built in 1950 with new roof will have most of the required wind mitigation features as they would be required by code for the new roof and therefore should be able to get many of the discounts.

We recommend Kolb Inspections, they charge $105 to do the inspection, the phone number is 941-256-0910. Authority, Inc. makes no guarantees that you will receive a discount by having the wind mitigation inspection discount. We can tell you that we have seen most people get a substantial discount from having the 2 page form completed. In addition, the inspection company guarantees that you will save at least the cost of the inspection or they will refund the difference up to the full cost of the inspection.
